

PRESS RELEASE

October 2, 2008

PAPER OR PLASTIC? NEITHER FOR THE EMPLOYEES OF NATIONAL ENZYME COMPANY!

National Enzyme Company Launches New “Live Responsibly” Program!

Forsyth, Mo – Going green and getting healthy doesn't have to mean giving up style, comfort, or quality. National Enzyme Company's new Live Responsibly program aims to teach its employees and the community fun and easy ways to take better care of themselves, their families, and the world. Most importantly it teaches how to do this without breaking the bank or completely changing one's lifestyle!

Scott Daniel, marketing manager for NEC and initiator of the Live Responsibly program, says “The new Live Responsibly program will challenge NEC to make changes that will ultimately help the employees and the World.” NEC offered its employees cloth bags, recycling bins and healthy lifestyle ideas to jump start the program.

National Enzyme Company is a contract manufacturer with over 75 years of experience in developing enzyme products backed by science. NEC is proud to Live Responsibly. –www.nationalezyme.com