NATIONAL ENZYME COMPANY CELEBRATES 75 YEARS

Forsyth, MO – National Enzyme Company is celebrating 75 years in business. This impressive milestone makes the multi-million dollar company one of the oldest in the dietary supplement industry and solidifies its role as the creator of the enzyme category in the dietary supplement industry. It is the largest enzyme supplement, contract manufacturer in the United States.

“Enzymes are, and will forever be, essential to a healthy life. We take our role as a world class organization seriously and are proudly committed to not only the safe work practices required for enzyme manufacturing, but equally to the education, research and innovation necessary to provide general and special use enzymes to every human and pet.” Anthony Collier, CEO.

Founded in 1932 by Dr. Edward Howell, NEC has led the way in advancing digestive health around the world. In 1979 Mr. Collier, who worked closely with Dr. Howell for many years, bought National Enzyme Company to further Dr. Howell’s original mission: To establish supplemental enzymes as essential to a healthy life. This mission is still used today by NEC. The next year Mr. Collier, wanting to find a more peaceful place, moved the company to Forsyth, Missouri.

It is the knowledge and competencies of the over 100 employees of NEC that have helped it become the enzyme powerhouse it is today. Each year the company launches novel branded ingredients using the most sophisticated technology available. It is these same employees that give their time and money to a wonderful organization that helps the children of Taney County, The Gift of Hope Foundation. Gift of Hope was founded by National Enzyme Company in 1989 as a way to give back to the community. Each year the foundation helps thousands of local children with their School Days program and the Back Pack Club.

National Enzyme Company continues to improve the enzyme category it created by expanding its research and maintaining its consistently high standards. The company is dedicated to helping the industry and to helping the community in which it belongs. 75 Years – A legacy of excellence.
