

Value Added Services*

Product Development and Formulation: NEC offers services of a comprehensive product development, marketing and technical services team which monitors industry trends and FDA guidelines. Coupled with many years of enzyme and manufacturing experience, we suggest and develop products exclusively to compliment your company's needs.

Specification Sheets: Every product development department wishes every vendor provided these free of charge!

Technical Data Sheets: Interested in the description, properties, shelf life, activities, and applications of your product? This is the document to ask for!!

UPS Shipping Notification: NEC joins with UPS to offer you exceptional shipping rates and tracking #'s that will arrive automatically and electronically in your e-mailbox with every shipment!

Basic Product Rationales: Marketing ready facts about your formula, complete with reference information, is detailed by the benefits of each ingredient. This is an excellent way to spark creativity on your label and other marketing material.

End line micro testing: Every product at NEC receives end line micro testing prior to departure from NEC.

Certificate of Analysis: A comprehensive CoA including Aerobic Plate Count accompanies every product in every shipment. Extensive CoAs are also available upon request.

Basic Label Review: NEC requests an electronic label for basic review prior to print. In fact, NEC won't allow you to send the printed label to them until you have taken advantage of this service! This complimentary service has saved customers thousands of dollars by ensuring everything from spelling to accurate fact box information and format to FDA compliance, etc.

PO Confirmation: With the receipt of every purchase order, you will receive an emailed sales order acknowledgement via email within 48hrs.

On-time Shipping: NEC prides itself on quality and service. On time deliveries are no exception.

Basic Marketing Material: 50 "Role of Enzymes" brochures are available on request. Basic selling sheets and FAQ for digestive products are also available.

Enzyme Training Material: Powerpoint presentations created exclusively for your products and presented to your team by an NEC Enzyme Specialist.

Insurance: NEC maintains general liability insurance.

Customer Care 24/7: The cell phone number for a member of your customer care team is available upon request. This allows you to be in touch with them anytime!

Industry News: NEC's full service marketing and customer care departments are committed to informing you of changes in industry regulations, FDA regulations, and an extensive array of valuable information so that your time can remain committed to serving your customers.

Sample Program: NEC offers a variety of options for product samples.

 these services available with use of any enzymes purchased through NEC*

Available Upon Request

R&D Sample

Product Testing

Lab Testing

Assay Testing

Please contact your NEC customer care team for further information on the below listed services.*